Gospel sing set

The Vera Church of God will hold an old fashioned Gospel Hymn Sing on Saturday, June 6, starting at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

There will be a variety of songs, and singers and musicians from several churches will participate.

The Gospel Sing is being sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary who will serve homemade pies, cakes, hot dogs and drinks in the fellowship Hall after the singing.

Everyone is invited and if anyone is interested in participating in the song service, contact Leon Bryant at 352-5142.

4-H forestry teams win district contests

The Appomattox Junior and Senior 4-H Forestry Judging Teams were winners in a District 4-H Forestry Judging Program held recently on the Southern Piedmont Research Station near Blackstone. The Senior Team will represent East Central District in the State 4-H Forestry Judging Program in June.

The 4-H members who were involved in the Forestry Judging Program were required to identify trees, estimate board-foot volume of standing trees, use a compass and pace accurately under forest conditions, identify insects that cause damage to forest stands, and make management decisions about stands of timber.

4-H'ers who participated in the District Forestry Contest included Junior members: Lisa Harrison, JoAnn Jamerson and Rick Pack and Senior members: Glen McClenny, Blair Smith and Richard Conner. Other 4-H'ers who have been practicing Forestry work but were unable to attend include: Nancy Cole, Anne Hancock and Dale Glover.

The 4-H Forestry Program is sponsored on a state wide basis by International Paper Company and The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

For Appomattox citizens

Disaster info available

Information concerning time of disasters is available to citizens of Appomatox through the office of Emergency Services, according to Bill Britton, county Emergency Services Coordinator.

"We have booklets which will help county citizens prepare for possible emergencies before they happen," Britton says.

He notes that a variety of subjects are covered in the booklets, including preparation of food, clothing, and shelter, and some information concerning medical aid and services.

Britton says the booklets, "In Time Of Emergency: A Citizens' Handbook," Protection in the Nuclear Age," and "Emergency Procedures" can be procured by contacting Britton at 352-8268.

Baseball 1981

Best season ends

The 1981 Raider varsity baseball season ended last Tuesday at Bristol, in an 8-1 state tournament semifinal loss to Virginia High School, who eventually went on to become state AA champs.

Despite the loss, Raider coach Howard Clabough said this week that he was "very pleased with the way our kids handled themselves," in the Virginia High School game, and in postseason play in general.

Clabough noted that the first inning killed the Appomattox team's hopes, as Virginia High School scored six runs, more than enough to defeat the Raiders.

"We were jittery, and we made two errors in key situations that cost us," Clabough noted.

After the first inning, the Raiders settled down, and Tim Bennett and Greg Mayberry pitched a "sound game," Virginia High School's two other runs came in the fourth inning.

The Raiders' sole run came in the fourth inning, following a double by Neal Cole. After Cole settled on second base, Bucky Totty connected for a single which drove Cole across home plate.

Totty went two for three in the game and had the only RBI for the Raiders, who collected a total of five hits during the game.

Virginia High School got ten hits during the contest with Appomattox.

"They had a very solid ball team," Coach Clabough noted. There were 12 seniors on the Virginia team, and all nine starters in the game against Appomattox were seniors.

"There's no doubt about it, they were a very experienced team," the coach said. "It was hard to throw sophomore pitchers up against that kind of experience, but they are the ones who got us that far, and I'd say they got a lot of valuable experience in the game."

Commenting on the season as a whole, in which the Raiders compiled a 16-5 record and for the first time ever reached the state tournament, Clabough said "I'm very proud of how the kids played all year, and especially in the post-season tournament."

The coach added, "All season long, they showed lots of enthusiasm and hustle. I guess our season shows you what a team can do with lots of hard work."

Players honored

Kenny Wayne Burks captured "Player Of The Year" honors for the Seminole District, and he, Neal Cole and Keith Mann were named to the first team All-Seminole District baseball squad, it was announced last week.

Burks played first base for the Raiders, Mann played short stop, and Cole played third base for the Appomatox team, which Tuesday ended its best baseball season ever.

In addition to the Raiders named to the first team, three players were named to the second team, and four Raider baseballers received honorable mention in polling for All-District honors.

Right-fielder Bucky Totty, catcher Kevin Ferguson, and second baseman Jody Williams were all named to the second team Seminole District squad.

Also, sophomore pitchers Tim Bennett, Greg Mayberry and Kevin Mitchell, as well as sophomore outfielder Rodney Bryant received honorable mention on the All-District list.

The case was built in memory of Cynthia Ann Smith, a girl athlete who graduated from ACHS in 1976 and from Longwood College in 1980, and who died in an accident last year. The case was built using donations from friends and relatives, including a $400 donation by the school SCA.

Raiderettes honored

Appomattox County's, High School's Raiderette softball squad captured four first-team all-district spots, as well as "Player of the Year" honors for the 1981 season, it was announced last week.

Susan Handy was named player of the year, and she an Jaquetta Booker, Robin Martin, and Karen Johnson were named to the first team All-Seminole District squad, according to a release from district headquarters.

It is the second consecutive year that Handy has been named to the first team All-District squad, and in 1979, she made second team all district.

Johnson was named to the second team all-district squad last year and Martin received honorable mention in the polling last year.

Outfielder Lolita Preston was named to the second team All District squad, according to the release. And, Raiderette designated hitter Kim Hancock, as well as Angie White, Robin Paulette, Angie Murray and Vickie Cheatham all received honorable mention in polling for All-District honors.

Team leaders on the year's end statistics sheet were as follows: Susan Handy: 42 runs, 31 hits, eight doubles, four home runs, 39 RBIs, .517 batting average;

Robin Martin: 115 put outs, two triples, six doubles, two home runs, .455 batting average;

Karen Johnson: two doubles, two home runs, .350 batting average, .947 fielding average;

Jacquetta Booker: four home runs, six sacrifices, .358 batting average;

Robin Paulette: 35 stolen bases, 18 bases on balls;

Kim Hancock: four doubles, two triples, .455 batting average.

Susan Handy's career 126 RBIs is a school record. She compiled a .438 career batting average at ACHS, and a career .817 fielding average.

Senior Robin Martin compiled a career .406 batting average, a career .904 fielding average, and 54 RBIs.

Karen Johnson compiled a career .319 batting average, a .926 fielding average, and got 52 RBIs as a Raiderette.
